

Media Advisory

Celebrating Environmental Public Health Education at the First Nations University of Canada

The Canadian Institute of Public Health Inspectors (CIPHI) – Saskatchewan Branch will be planting a tree and presenting a commemorative plaque to the First Nations University of Canada (FNUUniv) to acknowledge their educational contributions to Environmental Public Health in Saskatchewan and Canada. The First Nations University of Canada is the only institute in Saskatchewan that is approved to train Public Health Inspectors.

This ceremony is taking place during Environmental Public Health Week (September 23-29, 2013), an annual event aimed at recognizing the work of environmental public health professionals such as Public Health Inspectors, Environmental Health Officers and other allied environmental/public health occupations across Canada.

The tree, rock, commemorative plaque and food to celebrate this ceremony is being donated by the Canadian Institute of Public Health Inspectors as part of their Centenary year (2013) celebrations.

Date: Monday Sept, 23, 2013

Time: 4:30 p.m.

Place: FNUUniv Native Prairie Garden- section closest to SW entrance of the Regina Campus

Parking available in lot 19M

Available for interview at the event will be:

- CIPHI – Saskatchewan Branch President — Ryan Philipation
- FNUUniv Vice-President Academic — Dr. Lynn Wells
- FNUUniv Indigenous Science, Environment and Economic Development Department Head — Dr. Edward Doolittle
- FNUUniv Environmental Health and Safety Program Coordinator — Carmen Buschow
- Student Representative — Diane Adams

Media Contact: Racelle Kooy, Director of Communications,
First Nations University of Canada,
Call or text mobile: (306) 551-2965
Email: ркоoy@fnuniv.ca